Agreeable to vote of the town, your selectmen have collected the highway surveyors' warrants of 1879, with a few exceptions, and carried the balance due to the warrants of 1880, or caused it worked out under our instruction. We are satisfied that the surveyors have, as a general thing, discharged their duty and caused the tax committed to them to be worked out the past year.

ANNUAL REPORT

— OF THE —

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

E. H. WRIGHT.

The school work for the year has been carried on as successfully as could be expected under the existing circumstances.

Teachers of experience and competency, in most instances have been employed.

They have been diligent and faithful, and their labors have been rewarded.

The few, who recently entered upon the vocation, have shown an aptitude, which experience will more fully manifest.

In a few instances progress has been hindered by sickness; but fortunately no general epidemic has prevailed.

The wisdom of continuing good teachers in the same school, at least through the year, has often been demonstrated.

Thereby the time, essential to that acquaintance which enables rightly to classify and introduce good methods of instruction at the beginning of each term, is largely saved. The teacher, who knows the wants and capacities of his pupils, can intelligently set them at work, and assist them in pursuing their studies.

With our defective District system the question of time is an important one; for in some Districts the schooling is so short that pupils are barely engaged in their studies when the term closes.

It is said to be good to have been well born. This is doubtless true in more than one sense. Comparatively speaking there are favored localities of birth; because of educational advantages. This obtains to some extent in this town. The child, who leaves his cradle and enters upon school life in District No. 2, has some 28 weeks of schooling; in any one of four other Districts (Nos. 6, 7, 8, or 10) less than two thirds of that amount; in either of two other (Nos. 3, or 8) less than one half; while in one other (No. 16,) less than one quarter. The defect is not that No. 2, has too much schooling; but that the others have not enough.

Who can estimate the difference in the future of those who are reared under such diverse circumstances? A learned author has said: "Expert men can execute, and perhaps judge of particulars, one by one, but the general counsels and the plots and marshalling of affairs, come best from those who are learned." What is the comparative chance, other things being equal, of those becoming "learned," who, during the days of their childhood and youth, have less than two thirds, one half, or one quarter of the schooling of others who reside in the same town?

Can it be expected that "the general counsels, and the plots and marshalling of affairs" will come to them? This inequality in schooling, supported by the public money of the town and State, is a matter which should claim the earnest attention of citizens with the purpose of finding a remedy.

Besides giving encouragement to teachers and pupils, school visitation helps the latter to acquire the habit of telling what they know in the presence of others. This habit will be valuable when they go into the world to perform their life work. May there be a growing interest in this matter.

District No. 7 is doing extensive repairs on its school-house. A step in the right direction.

As touching illustrative apparatus, there have been no additions during the past year. It is hoped the time will come when all of our schools will be supplied with maps, globes, book of reference, &c.

For information of a statistical character your attention is called to the tabular statements.

DISTRICT No. 1.

Nellie B. Currier, Etta J. Woodman, Alice L. Knox, Teachers.

The first term, Miss Currier gave good instruction in a quiet and pleasant way.

The second term was taught by Miss Woodman, a teacher of experience. At our visit, the pupils were well engaged in study, recitations were promptly conducted, lessons well learned.

Was not notified of the examination.

The third term was highly successful under the instruction of Miss Knox.

DISTRICT No. 2.

Miss Carrie P. Taylor, Teacher.

The instruction was characterized with accuracy and thoroughness. The plan embraced weekly reviews of all lessons, thus affording pupils a good drill. The closing examination showed excellent results.

DISTRICT No. 3.

Mrs. Lavonia M. Hunkins, Teacher.

Mrs. Hunkins has had charge of this school a number of terms; and sustains her reputation as a good teacher. Good advancement was made.

DISTRICT No. 4.

Miss Myrtie Weeks, Daniel W. Davis, Teachers.

Miss Weeks taught the first term. She governed in kindness; and awakened a good interest in study. The progress was very satisfactory.

In the fall, a private school was taught by Mr. Davis.

He, also, had charge of the public school the second term. He was earnest and faithful, and the school prospered under his instruction.

DISTRICT No. 5.

Sarah M. Frye, Cynthia A. Hill, Teachers.

Miss Frye taught the first term, and pursued her work with diligence.

The second term taught by Mrs. Hill was attended with good results.

DISTRICT No. 6.

Mary E. Huse, Leona E. Carleton, Teachers.

Miss Huse, by dint of hard work, made a success of the first term. The order was good; instruction thorough; progress creditable to both teacher and pupils.

The second term, a good school was taught by Miss Carleton.

DISTRICT No. 7.

Miss Nellie R. Batchelder, Edith L. Swain, Teachers.

Miss Batchelder had the school well in hand the first term.

The order, and spirit of labor was good; and the examination showed satisfactory results.

The second term, the school entered upon its work under Miss Swain. It was well organized and opened with a prospect of success. Was not present at the examination.

DISTRICT No. 8.

Mrs. Cynthia A. Hill, Teacher.

During both terms of school, good work was done.

DISTRICT No. 9.

Miss Myrtie Weeks, Teacher.

The pupils pursued their studies with interest both terms, and the examinations were satisfactory.

DISTRICT No. 10.

Lillian A. Fuller, DeWitt C. Durgin, Teachers

The first term, the school was under the instruction of Miss Fuller who put a good deal of energy into her work. The examination was creditable.

Mr. Durgin, who taught the second term, brought to his work good scholarship, experience, and a rare faculty of imparting instruction. Progress excellent.

DISTRICT No. 11.

Miss Alice L. Knox, Teacher.

Though her first attempt at teaching, she proved herself qualified for the work. Discipline and advancement, satisfactory.

DISTRICT No. 12.

Miss Lillie M. Cass, Teacher.

The school work of both terms was pursued very quietly and successfully. In some branches there was marked improvement.

DISTRICT No. 13.

Mrs. Sarah J. Bunker, Lillian A. Fuller, Teachers.

The first term, the school made good progress under Mrs. Bunker.

The second term the school entered upon its work with interest, with Miss Fuller as teacher.

The order was good and the spirit of industry commendable. Unfortunately the examination was on a very stormy day when classes were badly broken.

DISTRICT No. 16.

The school was taught by Miss Myrtie Weeks. Progress, excellent.
